DESCRIPTION

'Terraces of Ronda - Ancient Path' invites viewers to journey through the timeless charm of Ronda, Spain, where layered terraces and winding paths echo centuries of history and cultural richness. This abstract watercolor composition blends architectural geometry with organic forms, capturing the harmony between man-made structures and the surrounding natural landscape.

The painting features a palette of earthy greens, deep violets, and subtle ochres, reflecting the textures and tones of ancient stone walls, sunlit facades, and shaded courtyards. The bold, angular forms suggest the terraced cliffs and architectural layers of the town, while the circular shape hints at the continuity of time and tradition.

Arnaud Quercy employs delicate washes and structured lines to evoke movement and stillness, inviting contemplation of the balance between nature and civilization.
