CURATORIAL NOTES

Walk the long façades of rue de Rivoli at twenty to seven, the arcades still in half-shadow. Grey and black hold the colonnade, then a red-orange upright cuts the line like first sun on stone, and a white and a blue square open the air. Morning settles under the arches, calm and ordered.

This is one facet of the 72 Facets of Paris, the series born of a piano waltz turning in full three-time. The chord here is D♭maj9 — luminous, expansive, the wide-open feeling of an empty arcade catching the light. Place and hour become colour through the artist's ideamorphic method.

Acrylic on paper, 18 × 13 cm, signed on the reverse. A poised, architectural dawn you can keep at arm's reach — one square of an abstract portrait of Paris, ready to bring the city's grandest street into your home.

THE ARTIST

Arnaud Quercy

Arnaud Quercy is a Parisian artist working across painting, music, and sculpture. His practice is grounded in Ideamorphism — the principle that a work of art does not carry meaning, but triggers it. Each piece is engineered to diffract differently through each person who encounters it.
