CURATORIAL NOTES

Step onto rue Saint-Antoine at twenty past six, when the southern Marais is only just waking. The shutters of the shops begin to rise, and the morning answers in green and yellow, in cool grey, in one quiet teal square edged with lavender. You can almost hear the metal roll upward and the day clear its throat.

This is one facet of the 72 Facets of Paris, the series born of a piano waltz now turning in full three-time. Each measure carries a place and an hour; this one is voiced by the chord G<sup>b</sup>7, warm and slightly veiled, the very spirit of awnings lifting and the street drawing its first breath.

Acrylic on paper, 18 × 13 cm, signed on the reverse. Small enough to live close to you, vivid enough to hold a whole Parisian dawn — a single square of an abstract portrait of the city, waiting for its place on your wall.

THE ARTIST

Arnaud Quercy

Arnaud Quercy is a Parisian artist working across painting, music, and sculpture. His practice is grounded in Idealism — the principle that a work of art does not carry meaning, but triggers it. Each piece is engineered to diffract differently through each person who encounters it.
