At the Maison de la Radio et de la Musique – the great circular home of Radio France on the banks of the Seine in Paris's 16th – Elements Jazz played a huge private party on 24 January 2019. The band pared down to a punchy latin-jazz trio: vocalist Andreïa Gómez out front, Arnaud Quercy on piano and Damien Fior on double bass, filling one of the most iconic broadcasting houses in France with warm bossa and latin grooves. A big, celebratory crowd and an intimate three-piece sound in a landmark setting – Elements Jazz at the house that built French radio.
